

Bridge Workshops

At the Illawarra Bridge Association

Defence – The Hardest Part of The Game

A bidding workshop for the developing and beginning player.

This is a practical series of workshops focussing on defending accurately. It will cover some of the well known defence aphorisms such as “Third Player Plays High”, “Always Return Your Partner’s Suit” and focus on why they are valuable and when you should ignore them!

There is a mix of theory and practise – each session will include eight hands of play where each player will get several opportunities to see the concepts just discussed happen at the table.

The course will include handouts discussing each hand, allowing participants to take the lesson away to study at their own pace.

Where is it: The Illawarra Bridge Association Hall, Figtree

When is it: Mondays 9th, 16th, 23rd February and 2nd March
10-00 until 12-30

How much does it cost: $15 per lesson or $50 for all four
(Please bring cash on the day)

Who is giving it: Steve Geddes

Steve has been playing bridge for thirty years and has been teaching the game for twenty of those. He has run lessons for several clubs in South Australia, Canberra and in New South Wales and is particularly skilled at breaking complicated concepts down into easily understandable steps.

Further information, please contact: Steve Geddes 0422 634 451

You can attend as an individual or as a partnership.

